Obituaries

Rev. H. Morgan Radford of DeLand died June 22, 1999, at West Volusia Hospital in DeLand following a long illness.

He was born Nov. 21, 1914, in Memphis, Tenn. After graduating from business college he worked with Union Carbide & Chemical Company in Memphis before entering Georgetown College in Kentucky to study for the ministry. He completed his studies at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky. He served as pastor of First Baptist Church, Lake Wales; First Baptist Church, Dania; Tropical Farms Baptist Church, Stuart; Southside Baptist Church, Bradenton; and Calvary Baptist Church, DeLand. He was pastor of four churches in Kentucky.

He also served with the Florida Baptist Convention in Jacksonville, working with the Sunday School Department, and was elected president of the Florida Baptist Pastors' Conference.

Following his retirement, Radford served as interim pastor of First Baptist Church, Orange City, and Eastside Baptist Church in DeLand. He also served as chaplain at Highbanks Marina in DeBary. His vocation and avocation were ministering to others.

Funeral services were held June 24 at Carpenter-Curry Funeral Home in DeLand. Interment was at Lake Wales Cemetery on June 25.

Radford is survived by his wife, Lelia Lavodis Radford, of the home at 1108 E. Beresford Ave., DeLand, FL 32724. He also is survived by two daughters, Patsy Capps of Haines City and Debi Lydic of Colorado Springs, Colo., and three grandchildren, Joy Capps of Tampa, and Trevor and Brent Lydic of Colorado Springs. Two sons-in-law are in full-time Christian ministry: Van Capps, vocational evangelist, and Gary Lydic with Focus on the Family.
