BRENT CHURCH, PENSACOLA, DEDICATES NEW MISSION

Brentwood Park, a new mission of Brent Church, Pensacola, was dedicated on Sunday, January 1. Pastor W. A. Thomas of Southside Mission brought the dedication message. Pastor Hugh F. Pyle of Brent Church was moderator; T. F. Westmark, East Brent Church, led opening prayer; A. B. Allen, Olive Church, brought devotional; Luther Key, Ensley Church, led dedication prayer.

For two summers Brent Church has held Vacation Bible Schools and revivals in this needy field. Site of the new mission is only a mile and a half from Brent Church, but many felt a need for a mission there to reach the folks who were just not going to any church. Last fall, work of the new Brentwood Mission began with services being held in a brush arbor. Lamar Rawson, Jr., Chairman of Deacons, Brent Church, was appointed director at the mission and has done very effective work. Already the Sunday school has had a record attendance of 163. Lamar Rawson has been licensed to preach and is now leading regular Sunday and Wednesday night services of the mission. Several choice workers from Brent Church have accepted the Lord's call to serve in the new field.

W. F. Howell, another young deacon of Brent Church, has answered the call to preach, been licensed, and started a new work in the Chumuckla Community in Santa Rosa County. Work on a new church building will begin there soon.

Brent Church, Pensacola, whose auditorium was destroyed by fire last October, led the Pensacola Bay Association in baptisms, again last year for the second straight year with 163.

Lawrence Rawson Obituary
REVEREND LAWRENCE LAMAR RAWSON
1915-2008

Reverend Lawrence Lamar Rawson, 93, went home to be with his Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, his wife of 72 years, Mary Louise, and his baby daughter, Patricia Ann, at his earthly home in Pace, Florida on Monday, December 29, 2008.

Born on August 16, 1915 to Lawrence L. and Mabel (Johnson) Rawson, in Mississippi, Lamar, his parents, and older brother, Malcolm (Mac), returned to his mother's home town of Pensacola. Lamar graduated from PHS and shortly thereafter married his life long love, Mary Louise (Jimmy) Bell.

Reverend Rawson was a bi-vocational Southern Baptist minister while working at the Pensacola Naval Air Station. When he retired from NAS he went into full time ministry and was pastor of several Northwest Florida Churches. He was a member of Floridatown Baptist Church at the time of his death.

He is survived by his children, Lamar H. Rawson of Pace, Larry E. Rawson (Joan) of Troy, Alabama, Dr. David W. Rawson (Pat) of Gulf Breeze and Crestview, Florida, and Judith Rawson Wiggins (Gary) of Bratt, Florida; thirteen grand children and 22 great-grandchildren.

The family wishes to thank Lydia Pettigrew, Ellie Tew, and Doyle Ward and family for their dedication to Daddy and Momma in their last years.

Rawson Brothers, That Is The 3 R's: A Study in Football

By RAY DONNELLY
Journal Sports Staff

Rawson The name is becoming the watchword for Pensacola and Auburn football fans.

And it has three meanings: Lamar, Larry and David. The three R's . . . college, high school and junior high. Each is a star on his own field.

Rugged Lamar, oldest of the triumvirate, is a galloping sophomore Auburn halfback, only two seasons removed from Pensacola High premises. He has already proven himself behind Bobby Hoppe, Auburn's No. 1 right halfback.

Sophomore Larry, in the middle, is a first-year tailback-halfback for Coach Jim Seaggins' Pensacola High Tigers. And according to the "experts" he's as good—or better—at this point of his career than Lamar was while coarsing with the Bengals. The flashy sophomore generates plenty of power operating at either tailback or fullback, whichever Seaggins designates.

And David, the youngest, is an up-and-coming halfback for Brentwood Junior High—the school which was a training station for his two brothers.

But from where does this family gridiron knowhow come?

David credits Larry . . . Larry credits Lamar and Lamar credits the Rev. Lawrence Lamar Nelson, the father and pastor of the Klondike Baptist Church.

It all started back when the Rev. Rawson was actively engaged in baseball and basketball. That's where the interest was generated. The ability?

"It just comes from practice and helping each other," says Larry, who is as modest and reserved as his brothers. Lamar used to come home from school and show us new plays. And we'd practice together. It's easy with teacher Lamar.

The Rev. Rawson, who in addition to his ministerial duties is a civilian employe at the Naval Air Station, has always stressed "fair play and good sportsmanship." And it has paid off handsomely.

The Rawson brothers' collective scholastic record is probably one of the best in the Escambia County school system. Their reputation is that of quiet, studious, intelligent youngsters—both on and off the football field.

Lamar, a mechanical engineering student, married Frances Baker, his high school sweetheart, after being graduated from PHS in 1956. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donovan K. Baker, 522 East 54 St., Brentwood.

Lamar was a freshman standout at Auburn last season, leading the frosh with 29 runs for 163 yards, averaging 5.6 and scoring two touchdowns.

Auburn Coach Shug Jordan said Lamar is being groomed for a starting role in the Tigers' backfield next season, when the seasonal Hoppe yields to graduation.

Lamar is a fine gentleman as well as a fine athlete," Coach Seaggins told the Reverend Rawson after watching his son play a big role in Auburn's victory over Florida. Admitting both Lamar and Larry possess "plenty of athletic ability as well as a wonderful mental attitude," Seaggins says he is looking forward to coaching David next spring and fall.

Larry, who amazed PHS fans at the outset of the season with his power running from the all-important tailback post, probably will headline the Tiger fullback chores the rest of the season.

"Fullback, that's easier than tailback," Larry said. The PHS sophomore is active in the Christian Youth Club and in all varsity sports.

The brothers are solid on playing college sports but in agreement that college is where a sports career should end.

The Rawson boys have enjoyed playing sports together since they were small. Their first game together was basketball, a sport played by their father. Each has participated in varsity basketball, Lamar being a starter for Coach Shetty Snow's PHS club his senior year and Larry and David members of Coach Fred Haushalter's Brentwood varsity.

second baseman Winn's move a chance to collect from Kansas City; that the Tigers had accepted Martin's contract and "his argument is with the Detroit ball club."

Tiger General Manager John McAlle said in Detroit. "There won't be any contract trouble—no trouble of any kind. He's going to fit right into the organization. Everything will be all right."

Sent to Detroit with Martin were pitchers Tom Morgan and Maurice "Mickey" McDermott, catcher Tim Thompson, and outfielders Gus Zernial and Lou Skizas.

In return Kansas City got outfielders Bill Tuttle and Jim Bonall, pitchers Duane "Duke" Mass and John Taitouris, catcher Frank House, and the two farm hands, yet to be selected.

Martin, McDermott, Morgan and Skizas were obtained by the Athletics in trades with the Yankees. Thompson was purchased from Brooklyn and Zernial has been with the A's since 1951 when the club, then at Philadelphia, obtained him from the Chicago White Sox.

Mass, Tuttle and House were
